A young company.
A wealth of experience.

A streamlined logistics chain, seamlessly-integrated production and effective cross-functional business systems – Aqcon GmbH, a young, ambitious software and consulting company founded in 2003, sets its sights high. Aqcon's ambition is backed by a team of professionals with over 100 years-worth of collective experience in the fields of in-

Logistics systems.
A seamless fit.

Logistics is our core competence. We provide solutions that support all process and organization types and integrate seamlessly with existing system environments. We offer our clients optimal solutions that employ the latest control and data capture technology. In addition to traditional warehouse management systems, we also provide support for

Manufacturing integration.
Solutions for success.

Our Manufacturing Execution System (MES) solutions link manufacturing operations with enterprise and production planning (ERP/PPC). Automatic communication of manufacturing parameters in the production process gives clients greater flexibility, while real-time transmission of process and manufacturing data to the planning function renders business processes more transparent. MES projects are all about integration and need to be specifically tailored to the individual needs of each client, using a great deal of specialist knowledge. Our Manufacturing Execution System is a modular system that employs the latest technologies to deliver enhanced flexibility in the integration of ERP/PPC with production facilities.

formation technology, logistics and automation. Aqcon uses this experience to release undreamt-of potential for clients in a range of industries, from automotive to food processing, pharmaceuticals to logistics services. Not only are Aqcon's solutions specific and highly developed, they are also future-proof, platform-independent and integration-ready.

Supply Chain Management. However complex and varied your existing system, our innovative, holistic logistics solutions are specifically designed to optimize material flow, both within the company and at suppliers and clients.

Process transformation. Your partner in change.

The process of structural change is having profound effects on practically all branches of industry. To keep pace, companies need to constantly develop.

Aqcon acts as partner to a range of companies as they strive to remain competitive, each of them facing challenges specific to its industry.

Nowhere is this more evident than in logistics and production. So we don't just supply standard solutions, but work together with our clients to develop specific solutions tailored exactly to their individual needs. In doing so, we place as much emphasis on investment protection and ensuring our solutions are future-proof as we do on adapting them to existing structures and systems.

We pay constant attention to quality and transparency issues at all stages of the project, from consultancy through to implementation. In this way, we establish the basis for what we hope will be a long-term business relationship.

In terms of service, too, you could not be in better hands. Our comprehensive offer, which includes training, installation and hotline support, guarantees maximum security and reliability.

But that's not all. We are already in the process of developing a wide range of additional products and services. Why not talk to us about our latest technological developments and advanced solutions? We'd be happy to discuss these and the benefits they can bring to your business with you personally.
